At VACFSS, we ensure that the rights, safety, well-being and spirit of Aboriginal children and families are upheld, honoured and protected. We strive to eliminate oppression, discrimination and marginalization within our community. We acknowledge and honour the inherent wisdom, capacity and resourcefulness of our community in designing programs and services to care for our own children and families. Accordingly, we are dedicated to planning, developing, and implementing creative and innovative Aboriginal programs and services in collaboration with members of our community and other agencies.

The objective of the Child Protection Program is to ensure the safety and well-being of children and to work towards the preservation of families. The Child Protection Program provides a continuum of services, from preventive programs which support and maintain families, to services that ensure permanency for children in care.

PURPOSE OF POSITION

The Child Protection Social Worker is responsible for ensuring the safety and well-being of children through least intrusive, trauma-informed and restorative child welfare practices. This is enacted by the Social Worker working in partnership with the child's family, extended family, community, Band or Nation to: (1) Gathering the child's Circle; (2) Listen, assess and find solutions; (3) Create security, belonging and well-being; and (4) Keep the Circle strong.

The work of the CPSW is guided by the values of belonging, respect, strengths-based practice, integrity and humility. It is conducted in accordance with practice standards, legislation, and VACFSS's philosophy of service delivery, in pursuit of a balanced and harmonious Aboriginal community.

- Applies the process of traditional problem solving, utilizing collaboration and consensus, to analyze problems and develop appropriate solutions. Working with all perspectives in the circle, effectively evaluates a course of action, reaches decisions and modifies decisions based on changing circumstances or information.
- Applies the Aboriginal concept of relational engagement to with children, families, other employees and to the land from an Aboriginal Worldview.
- Provides leadership (Siiyamints) to children, families, agency employees and community partners.
- Recognizes the importance and role that culture and spirituality play in everyday life of Aboriginal people.
- Recovers from or adjusts readily to change and challenging circumstances.
- Maintains composure and emotional balance when working with children, families, agency employees and community partners.

A comprehensive position profile will be available at the time of interview.
